WHERE THE MEN BALK

PROGRESS OF THE WAR

It being admitted that the Germans and Bulgarians operating in Dobruja have the Rumanians and Russians almost on the run, those persons interested in the war will wait to see whether the invaders will be able to capture the great railroad bridge leading across the Danube. With that in their possession, the Germans would have little trouble in threatening Bucharest.

There is a fly in the Germans' ointment, however. While they had drawn off men from other fronts for this Rumanian campaign, the French made a coup at Verdun, much to the surprise of the world, and captured four miles of trenches, including some points the Germans had captured after six months of costly effort. Fort Douaumont is encircled and the French, having put it in a pocket, will take it soon.

In the Balkans peninsula Italian cavalry has linked up the whole front from southern Albania to the entente lines below Monastir, a distance of 250 miles, thus placing the Bulgarian defending army in a worse condition.

In Russia also the Germans are being held to their knitting. If the Russians and Rumanians have the men to check the Germans and their allies in the Dobruja, the week's operations will have been altogether favorable to the entente. At any rate, there seems no prospect of destroying the Russo-Rumanian armies, and they count more than towns and territory.

WELCOME-GOVERNOR

Hickory extends a cordial welcome to Governor Craig, who is to make a political speech here tonight.

Mr. Craig's administration is chiefly remarkable from the fact that the good roads sentiment, thanks to the state highway commission act, was given an impetus similar in force to the educational impetus of the late Governor Aycock; also it is remarkable that the state took its first step in real conservation of natural resources, that the chief executive lent all the power of his position to the forces of law and order.

One administration in North Carolina cannot be very distinctive from another, as long as the governor is without the veto power, but history will write well for Governor Craig. Personally, a clean man; intellectually, a logical thinker, he is well worth hearing, and his oratory, though not demonstrative, is pleasing.

Governor Craig is bidden welcome to our city.

A FINE SHOWING

The most inspiring feature of Wednesday's events was the parade of the school children and Lenoir College students. They are the community's greatest asset, the school children, because they are Hickory citizens of the future, and the college students, because they are part of this good community and will keep a warm place in their hearts for their alma mater and the town in which they were educated. Many of them will make their homes in Hickory.

One has no idea of the number of school children in this city until he sees them together, and the only time they can be assembled is at an occasion such as this.

Naturally Hickory parents and citizens generally are proud of the children, college students and the schools, and they are manifesting this pride in a manner that augurs well for the future.

Two weeks from next Tuesday it will all be over, and if we had as much money as has been spent in Catawba county—legitimately too—we would put in an order for a Cox duplex eight-page press, install another linotype, and add to our equipment in other ways, besides having a pretty fair balance in bank. Six months of politics is costly, but the boys like it, and they are paying for it.

Rowan county pulled off its fair this week, and it was as good as they make 'em, we understand.

THE FAIR A SUCCESS

Come what may, the Catawba County Fair, held for the first time in permanent grounds, has proved a success. Today's attendance, which promises to exceed that of yesterday's, will show that the people of this section appreciate the efforts of Catawba citizens to stage a first class exposition of agricultural and live stock resources.

Neighbors have been kind to the fair. Newton people have given it a boost, and the papers there wished it well. Lenoir also has given it a life and Gastonia, whose fair was the best ever, has shown a desire to cooperate.

The Record, in common with other agencies in this section has pulled for the success of the fair, and it pledges its best efforts next year. We should have the biggest fair in western North Carolina at Hickory, and if we all pull together in future, as we have in the past, we will have it too.

MAY REQUIRE EMBARGO

Nobody knows how the wage-earner is to fare this winter. Food prices have shot up to figures not reached since the war between the states, and every day the situation, as far as the man working for wages is concerned, grows worse. Wages have been increased in many parts of the country, but the employer, who is paying more for everything that goes into the manufacture of an article, cannot raise wages to an extent that would equal the increased cost of foods, be he ever so willing.

We have never contemplated an embargo on food products as right to the producer, but when prices reach a point where nearly half of the people will be in distress—and that time does not seem far distant—it will be time for the government to act.

Either that or millions of working men will not be able to feed their families.

If the Record hasn't printed political announcements, it is because we have not been asked to do so. We are running a newspaper, and not a political organ, and feel just as free to print one kind of news as another.

Mr. Hughes denies that he made a secret promise to Jeremiah O'Leary, and we can well believe it. Any man who would have dealings with such a critter would not be worthy of any trust.

The South Carolina State Fair and Harvest Jubilee will be held in Columbia next week, and it will be a jollification.

If you did not attend today, why not go tomorrow? It is never too late to see the sights.

This weather was made to order for the fair.

NEWTON SENDS BIG CROWD UP TO FAIR

Newton sent up a large delegation yesterday for the fair, some of the Newton people saying as many as 250 came from that city. It was a big delegation all right and showed the interest of Newton in the fair.

HICKORY STREETS USED FOR AUTO RACE COURSE

Speeding continues right along on the principal streets of Hickory, much to the distress of parents whose children are attending school and to the annoyance of housekeepers on sandelay streets. It has been suggested that citizens note the number of automobiles that violate the ordinance and report them to Chief Lentz.

BIDS WANTED

Sealed proposals will be received by the City Council of the City of Hickory until Oct. 21st, 1916, at 8:00 p. m., at the City Manager's office, for laying approximately 5,000 to 8,000 feet 6 and 8 inch Sewer Pipe, and building approximately 25 manholes; profiles, plans and specification may be seen at the office of City Manager. Check for $50.00 to accompany each bid until bid is given and accepted by City Council. The city reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

This Oct. 21st, 1916.

JOHN W. BALLEW, City Manager

SERIES 17 FOUR

Forty Horse Power
Seven Passenger $875

No other car gives as much for every dollar of the price

There's the itemized list of what $875 buys in this NEW Studebaker Series 17 FOUR. No other car begins to equal it in VALUE, dollar for dollar.

This unusual price of $875 for this big, roomy, SEVEN-passenger car with a FORTY horse power motor is possible only because of Studebaker's experience, unexcelled manufacturing facilities and large volume. And no other car on the market whose manufacturer does not enjoy EQUAL advantages and volume of manufacture, can begin to equal this new Studebaker.

The fact is, that to equal it, you must look among cars ranging hundreds of dollars higher. See this car before you make up your mind to buy any car.
